The earliest information the publisher is yet able to collect, of the origin of the New England Primer, is contained in the following extract, from an Almanac now in the Library of the Massachusetts Historical Society, Boston.

INTRODUCTION TO THE PRESENT EDITION.

THE pious Baxter, who knew well the greater part of the Westminster Assembly of Divines, says, that the Christian world, since the days of the Apostles, never had a Synod of more excellent divines. The Assembly was convened in 1643; and was composed of one hundred and twenty-one divines, or presbyters, thirty lay assessors, and five commissioners from Scotland. It sat more than five years and a half.

Our Puritan Fathers brought the Shorter Catechism with them, across the ocean, and laid it on the same shelf with the family Bible. They taught it diligently to their children, every Sabbath. And while a few of their descendants, now in the evening of line, remember every question and answer; many, not yet advanced to life's meriaian, can never forget when every Saturday forenoon, they had to take a regular catechising, in the common school, commencing with the a, b, c, oaken-bench class, "What is the chief end of man?"

If in this Catechism, the true and fundamental doctrines of the Gospel are expressed in fewer and better words, and definitions, than in any other summary, why ought we not now to train up a child in the way he should go?—why not now, put him in possession of the richest treasure that ever human wisdom at d industry accumulated, to draw from?

A Society of ladies was formed in Boston, in the time of Mr. Whitefield, for improvement in personal piety, and to pray for the extension of the Redeemer's Kingdom. The Society met weekly for prayer, "reading some sound and serious book," singing, and other exercises adapted to "spiritual edification." "We also agree," say they, "once a quarter, to spend the day in prayer and other duties of religion, our special errand at the throne of grace to ask for the outpouring of the Spirit of God on us, our families, and the world of mankind."—"Once a quarter, the exercises shall be so shortened, as to have room to ask ourselves the Assembly's Shorter Catechism, that so we may keep in our minds that excellent form of sound words." This edition of the New England Primer, is a reprint and fac-simile of one of those owned and used by that Society.

A community of Boston ladies of "the olden time," enrolling the bright names and embodying the choice influences of the mothers of this Israel—the Masons and the Waterses of hallowed memory—assembled quarterly to refresh their minds from this Primer.

The fact needs no comment.*

CERTIFICATES.

At the request of the publisher, the following certificate has been furnished by a gentleman who has given much attention to the subject of early School Books and Catechisms, in this country.

"The edition of the New England Primer, published in 1843 by Mr. lra Webster, of Hartford, is a correct reprint of the oldest copy of that remarkable work, of which I have any knowledge; perhaps the oldest copy now extant. All other reprints which I have seen, have been considerably altered—modernized—from the original.

Cambridge, Oct. 20, 1849.

GEORGE LIVERMORE."

Communicated by the Rev. Thomas Williams:

"The edition of the New England Primer, which has been published by Mr. Ira Webster, of Hartford, in the year 1843, is the only genuine and correct edition of that valuable and wonderful book that has been to be obtained for many years. It is probably more than fifty years since there has been printed a complete and correct edition of the Primer, except the one printed by Mr. Webster. His edition is an exact copy of the Primer that was used by families and schools in my youth, sixty years ago, and I suppose it had been used for fifty or a hundred years before that time. The genuine copy of the Primer, on account of its antiquity, and its extensive usefulness in former years, has now become an object of interesting and beneficial curiosity."

THOMAS WILLIAMS.

Plymouth, Massachusetts, June 23, A. D. 1844.

We, the subscribers, concur in the preceding statements.

THOMAS ROBBINS, JOEL HAWES, T. H. GALLAUDET.

Hartford, Oct. 30, 1849.

The publisher of this edition, from one of 1777—(wishing to obtain information of still older copies,) would say that he has in his possession three Primers, two printed in Boston, 1770, 1777, and one in Providence, 1775, all the same, after the title page.

A Divine Song of Praise to GOD, for a Child, by the Rev. Dr. WATTS.

HOW glorious is our heavenly King, Who reigns above the Sky! How shall a Child presume to sing His dreadful Majesty!

How great his Power is none can tell, Nor think how large his Grace: Nor men below, nor Saints that dwell On high before his Face.

Nor Angels that stand round the Lord, Can fearch his fecret will; But they perform his heav'nly Word, And sing his Praises still.

Then let me join this holy Train, And my first Off'rings bring; The eternal GOD will not disdain To hear an Infant sing.

My Heart refolves. my Tongue obeys, And Angels shall rejoice, To hear their mighty Maker's Praise, Sound from a seeble Voice.

From thence he shall come to judge both the quick and the dead. I believe in the Holy Ghost, the Holy Catholic Church, the communion of Saints, the forgiveness of sins, the refurrection of the body, and the life everlasting. AMEN.

Dr. WATTS'S Cradle Hymn. USH my dear, lie still and slumber, holy angels guard thy bed, Heavenly bleflings without number, gently falling on thy head. Sleep my babe, thy food and raiment house and home thy friends provide, All without thy care or payment, all thy wants are well fupply'd. How much better thou'rt attended, than the Son of God could be, When from heaven he descended, and became a child like thee. Soft and eafy is thy cradle, coarfe and hard thy Saviour lay, When his birth-place was a stable, and his foftest bed was hay. Bleffed Babe! what glorious features, fpotless fair, divinely bright!! Must he dwell with brutal creatures, how could angels bear the fight! Was there nothing but a manger, curfed finners could afford, To receive the heavenly stranger; did they thus affront their Lord. Soft my child I did not chide thee, tho' my fong may found too hard; "Tis thy mother fits befide thee, and her arms shall be thy guard. Yet to read the shameful story, how the Jews abus'd their King, How they ferv'd the Lord of glory, makes me angry while I fing. See the kinder shepherds round him, telling wonders from the fky; There they fought him, there they found him. with his Virgin Mother by. See the lovely Babe a dreffing; lovely Infant how he smil'd! When he wept, the Mother's bleffing sooth'd and hush'd the holy child. Lo! he flumbers in his manger, where the horned oxen fed; Peace my darling here's no danger, here's no Ox a near thy bed. Twas to fave thee, child from dying fave my dear from burning flame,

Bitter groans and endless crying, that thy blest Redeemer came.

May'st thou live to know and fear him, trust and love him all thy days!

Then go dwell for ever near him, fee his face and sing his praise.

I could give thee thousand kisses, hoping what I most desire:

Not a mother's fondest wishes, can to greater joys aspire.

VERSES for Children. THOUGH I am young a little one, If I can speak and go alone, Then I must learn to know the Lord, And learn to read his holy word. 'Tis time to feek to God and pray For what I want for every day: I have a precious foul to fave, And I a mortal body have, Tho' I am young yet I may die, And haften to eternity: There is a dreadful fiery hell, Where wicked ones must always dwell: There is a heaven full of joy, Where godly ones must always stay: To one of these my foul must fly, As in a moment when I die:

When God that made me, calls me home, I must not stay I must be gone. He gave me life, and gives me breath, And he can fave my foul from death, By JESUS CHRIST my only Lord, According to his holy word. He clothes my back and makes me warm: He faves my flesh and bones from harm. He gives me bread and milk and meat And all I have that's good to eat. When I am fick, he if he pleafe, Can make me well and give me eafe: He gives me fleep and quiet reft, Whereby my body is refresh'd The Lord is good and kind to me, And very thankful I must be: I must obey and love and fear him, By faith in Christ I must draw near him. I must not fin as others do, Lest I lie down in forrow too: For God is angry every day, With wicked ones who go aftray, All finful words I must restrain: I must not take God's name in vain. I must not work, I must not play, Upon God's holy fabbath day. And if my parents speak the word,

I must obey them in the Lord. Nor steal, nor lie, nor spend my days, In idle tales and foolish plays, I must obey my Lord's commands, Do fomething with my little hands: Remember my creator now, In youth while time will it allow. Young SAMUEL that little child, He ferv'd the Lord, liv'd undefil'd; Him in his fervice God employ'd, While Eli's wicked children dy'd: When wicked children mocking faid, To a good man, Go up bald head, God was displeas'd with them and sent Two bears which them in pieces rent, I must not like these children vile, Displease my God, myself defile. Like young ABIJAH, I must fee, That good things may be found in me, Young King Josiah, that bleffed youth, He fought the Lord and lov'd the truth; He like a King did act his part, And follow'd God with all his heart. The little children they did fing, Hofannahs to their heavenly King. That bleffed child young TIMOTHY, Did learn God's word most heedfully.

It feem'd to be his recreation, Which made him wife unto falvation: By faith in Christ which he had gain'd With prayers and tears that faith unfeign'd. Thefe good examples were for me; Like thefe good children I must be. Give me true faith in Christ my Lord, Obedience to his holy word, No word is in the world like thine, There's none fo pure, fweet and divine. From thence let me thy will behold, And love thy word above fine gold. Make my heart in thy statutes found, And make my faith and love abound. Lord circumcife my heart to love thee: And nothing in this world above thee: Let me behold thy pleafed face, And make my foul to grow in grace, And in the knowledge of my Lord And Saviour Christ, and of his word.

Then let my heart so fixed be,

Who takest the lambs into thy arms, And gently leadest those with young, Who savest children from all harms, Lord, I will praise thee with my song.

And when my days on earth shall end, And I go hence and be here no more, Give me eternity to spend, My G O D to praise forever more.

Advice to Youth. Eccle. xii.

Now in the heat of youthful blood, Remember your Creator God; Behold the months come hast'ning on, When you shall say, My joys are gone.

Behold the aged finner goes Laden with guilt and heavy woes, Down to the regions of the dead, With endless curses on his head.

The dust returns to dust again,
The soul in agonies of pain,
Ascends to God not there to dwell,
But hears her doom and finks to hell.
Eternal King I fear thy name,
Teach me to know how frail I am,
And when my soul must hence remove,
Give me a mansion in thy love.
Remember thy Creator in the days of thy youth.

CHILDREN your great Creator fear,
To him your homage pay,
While vain employments fire your blood,
And lead your thoughts aftray.

The due remembrance of his name Your first regard requires: Till your breaft glows with facred love, Indulge no meaner fires. Secure his favour, and be wife, Before these cheerless days, When age comes on, when mirth's no more And health and strength decays.

R. JOHN ROGERS, minister of the gospel in London, was the first martyr in Queen MARY's reign, and was burnt at Smithsield, February 14, 1554.—His wife with nine small children, and one at her breast following him to the stake; with which forrowful sight he was not in the least daunted, but with wondersul patience died courageously for the gospel of Jesus Christ.

some few days before his death, he wrote the following Advice to his Children.

GIVE ear my children to my words Whom God hath dearly bought, Lay up his laws within your heart, and print them in your thoughts.

I leave you here a little book for you to look upon,

That you may fee your father's face when he is dead and gone:

Who for the hope of heavenly things While he did here remain,

Gave over all his golden years to prifon and to pain.

Where I, among my iron bands, inclosed in the dark,

Not many days before my death, I did compose this work:

And for example to your youth, to whom I wish all good,

I fend you here God's perfect truth, and feal it with my blood.

To you my heirs of earthly things: which I do leave behind,

That you may read and understand and keep it in your mind.

That as you have been heirs of that that once shall wear away, You also may possess that part, which never shall decay.

Keep always God before your eyes, with all your whole intent,

Commit no fin in any wife, keep his commandment.

Abhor that arrant whore of Rome, and all her blasphemies,

And drink not of her curfed cup, obey not her decrees.

Give honor to your mother dear, remember well her pain,

And recompence her in her age, with the like love again.

Be always ready for her help, and let her not decay,

Remember well your father all, who would have been your stay.

Give of your portion to the poor, as riches do arife,

And from the needy naked foul, turn not away your eyes:

For he that doth not hear the cry of those that stand in need,

Shall cry himself and not be heard, when he does hope to speed.

If GOD hath given you increase, and bleffed well your store,

Remember you are put in trust, and should relieve the poor.

Beware of foul and filthy luft, let fuch things have no place,

Keep clean your vessels in the LORD, that he may you embrace.

Ye are the temples of the LORD, for you are dearly bought,

And they that do defile the fame, fhall furely come to nought.

Be never proud by any means, build not your house too high,

But always have before your eyes, that you are born to die.

Defraud not him that hired is, your labour to fustain,

But pay him still without delay, his wages for his pain.

And as you would that other men against you should proceed,

Do you the fame to them again, when they do stand in need.

Impart your portion to the poor, in money and in meat

And fend the feeble fainting foul, of that which you do eat.

Ask counsel always of the wife, give ear unto the end,

And ne'er refuse the sweet rebuke of him that is thy friend.

Be always thankful to the LORD, with prayer and with praife,

Begging of him to blefs your work, and to direct your ways.

Seek first, I say, the living GOD, and always him adore,

And then be fure that he will blefs, your basket and your store.

And I befeech Almighty GOD, replenish you with grace,

That I may meet you in the heavens, and fee you face to face.

And though the fire my body burns, contrary to my kind,

That I cannot enjoy your love according to my mind:

Yet I do hope that when the heavens fhall vanish like a scroll,

I fhall fee you in perfect shape, in body and in sour.

And that I may enjoy your love,

and you enjoy the land,
I do befeech the living LORD,
to hold you in his hand.

Though here my body be adjudg'd in flaming fire to fry,

My foul I truft, will ftraight afcend to live with GOD on high.

What though this carcafe finart awhile what though this life decay,

My foul I hope will be with GOD, and live with him for aye.

I know I am a finner born, from the original,

And that I do deferve to die by my fore-father's fall:

But by our SAVIOUR's precious blood, which on the cross was spilt,

Who freely offer'd up his life, to fave our fouls from guilt;

I hope redemption I shall have, and all who in him trust,

When I shall fee him face to face, and live among the just.

Why then should I fear death's grim look fince CHRIST for me did die,

For King and Cæsar, rich and poor. the force of death must try

When I am chained to the ftake, and fagots girt me round,

Then pray the LORD my foul in heaven may be with glory crown'd.

Come welcome death the end of fears, I am prepar'd to die:

Those earthly flames will fend my foul up to the Lord on high.

Farewell my children to the world, where you must yet remain;

The LORD of hosts be your defence, 'till we do meet again.

Farewell my true and loving wife, my children and my friends,

I hope in heaven to fee you all, when all things have their end.

If you go on to ferve the LORD, as you have now begun,

You shall walk safely all your days, until your life be done.

GOD grant you fo to end your days, as he shall think it best,

That I may meet you in the heavens, where I do hope to rest.

O UR days begin with trouble here, our life is but a span,

And cruel death is always near,

fo frail a thing is man.

Then fow the feeds of grace whilst young, that when thou com'ft to die,

Thou may'ft fing forth that triumph fong, Death where's thy victory.

A DIALOGUE between CHRIST, YOUTH, and the Devil. YOUTH.

Those days which God to me doth fend,
In pleasure I'm resolv'd to spend;
Like as the birds in th' lovely spring,
Sit chirping on the bough, and sing;
Who straining forth those warbling notes,
Do make sweet music in their throats,
So I resolve in this my prime,
In sports and plays to spend my time.
Sorrow and grief I'll put away,
Such things agree not with my day:

From clouds my morning shall be free, And nought on earth shall trouble me. I will embrace each sweet delight, This earth affords me day and night: Though parents grieve and me correct, Yet I their counsel will reject.

Devil The refolution which you take, Sweet youth it doth me merry make. If thou my counsel wilt embrace, And shun the ways of truth and grace, And learn to lie, and curfe and swear. And be as proud as any are; And with thy brothers wilt fall out, And fifters with vile language flout . Yea, fight and fcratch, and also bite, Then in thee I will take delight. If thou wilt but be rul'd by me, An artist thou shalt quickly be, In all my ways which lovely are, Ther'e few with thee who shall compare. Thy parents always disobey; Don't mind at all what they do fay: And also pout and fullen be, And thou shalt be a child for me. When others read, be thou at play. Think not on God, don't sigh nor pray

Nor be thou fuch a filly fool,
'To mind thy book or go to fchool;
But play the truant; fear not I
Will ftraitway help you to a lie,
Which will excuse thee from the fame,
From being whipp'd and from all blama;
Come bow to me, uphold my crown,
And I'll thee raise to high renown.

Үочтн.

These motions I will cleave unto,
And let all other counsels go;
My heart against my parents now,
Shall harden'd be, and will not bow:
I won't submit at all to them,
But all good counsels will condemn,
And what I list that do will I,
And stubborn be continually.

CHRIST.

Wilt thou, O youth make fuch a choice, And thus obey the devil's voice!
Curst sinful ways wilt thou embrace,
And hate the ways of truth and grace?
Wilt thou to me a rebel prove?
And from thy parents quite remove
Thy heart also? Then shalt thou see,
What will e'er long become of thee.
Come, think on God, who did thee make.

And at his presence dread and quake,
Remember him now in thy youth,
And let thy soul take hold of truth;
The Devil and his ways defy,
Believe him not, he doth but lie:
His ways seem sweet, but youth beware,
He for thy soul hath laid a snare.
His sweet will into bitter turn,
If in those ways thou still wilt run,
He will thee into pieces tear,
Like lions which most hungry are.
Grant me thy heart, thy folly leave,
And from this lion I'll thee save;
And thou shalt have sweet joy from me,
Which shall last to eternity.

Үоптн.

My heart shall chear me in my youth, I'll have my frolicks in good truth, What e'er feems lovely in mine eve. Myself I cannot it deny.
In my own ways I still will walk, And take delight among young folk, Who spend their days in joy and mirth, Nothing like that I'm sure on earth: Thy ways, O Christ! are not for me, They with my age do not agree.
If I unto thy laws should cleave,

No more good days then should I have. CHRIST.

Woul'ft thou live long and good days fee Refrain from all iniquity:
True good alone doth from me flow,
It can't be had in things below.
Are not my ways, O youth! for thee,
Then thou fhalt never happy be;
Nor ever fhall thy foul obtain,
True good, whilft thou doft here remain
YOUTH.

To thee, O Chrift, I'll not adhere, What thou speak'st of does not appear Lovely to me I cannot find, 'Tis good to set or place my mind On ways whence many forrows spring And to the flesh such crosses bring, Don't trouble me, I must fulfil, My fleshly mind, and have my wil'. CHRIST.

Unto thyfelf then I'll thee leave,
That Satan may thee wholly have:
Thy heart in fin shall harden'd be,
And blinded in iniquity.
And then in wrath I'll cut thee down
Like as the grass and flowers mown.
And to thy woe thou shalt espy,

Childhood and youth are vanity;
For all fuch things I'll make thee know
To judgment thou shall come also.
In hell at last thy foul shall burn,
When thou thy sinful race hast run.
Consider this, think on thy end
Lest God do thee in pieces rend.

Yоитн.

Amazed, Lord! I now begin,
O help me and I'll leave my fin:
I tremble, and do greatly fear,
To think upon what I do hear.
Lord! I religious now will be,
And I'll from Satan turn to thee.

Devil.

Nay, foolish youth, don't change thy mind, Unto such thoughts be not inclin'd. Come, cheer up thy heart, rouse up, be glad. There is no hell; why art thou sad? Eat, drink, be merry with thy friend, For when thou diest, that's thy last end.

Yочтн.

Such thoughts as these I can't receive, Because God's word I do believe; None shall in this destroy my faith, Nor do I mind what Satan saith.

Devil.

Although to thee herein I yield, Yet e'er long I shall win the field. That there's a heaven I can't deny, Yea, and a hell of mifery: That heaven is a lovely place I can't deny; 'tis a clear case; And eafy 'tis for to come there, Therefore take thou no further care, All human laws do thou observe, And from old customs never swerve: Do not oppose what great men fay, And thou shalt never go astray. Thou may'ft be drunk, and fwear and curfe, And finners like thee ne'er the worfe; At any time thou may'st repent; 'Twill ferve when all thy days are spent. CHRIST.

Take heed or else thou art undone;
These thoughts are from the wicked One,
Narrow's the way that leads to life,
Who walk therein do meet with strife.
Few shall be saved, young man know,
Most do unto destruction go.
If righteous ones scarce saved be,
What will at last become of thee!
Oh! don't reject my precious call,
Lest suddenly in hell thou fall;

Unless you soon converted be, God's kingdom thou shalt never see.

Lord, I am now at a great stand:
If I should yield to thy command,
My comrades will me much deride,
And never more will me abide.
Moreover, this I also know,
Thou can'st at last great mercy show.
When I am old, and pleasure gone,
Then what thou say'st I'll think upon.
CHRIST.

Nay, hold vain youth, thy time is fhort, I have thy breath, I'll end thy fport; Thou shalt not live till thou art old, Since thou in fin art grown so bold. I in thy youth grim death will fend, And all thy sports shall have an end.

Yоитн.

I am too young, alas to die, Let death fome old grey head espy. O spare me, and I will amend, And with thy grace my soul befriend, Or else I am undone alas, For I am in a wosul case.

CHRIST.

When I did call, you would not hear,

But didft to me turn a deaf ear;
And now in thy calamity,
I will not mind nor hear thy cry;
Thy day is paft, begone from me,
Thou who didft love iniquity,
Above thy foul and Saviour dear;
Who on the crofs great pains did bear,
My mercy thou didft much abufe,
And all good counfel didft refuse,
Justice will therefore vengeance take,
And thee a sad example make.

Yочтн.

O fpare me, Lord, forbear thy hand, Don't cut me off who trembling stand, Begging for mercy at thy door, O let me have but one year more.

CHRIST.

If thou fome longer time should have, Thou wouldst again to folly cleave: Therefore to thee I will not give, One day on earth longer to live.

Death.

Youth, I am come to fetch thy breath, And carry thee to th' fhades of death, No pity on thee can I fhow, Thou hast thy God offended fo.
Thy foul and body I'll divide,

Thy body in the grave I'll hide, And thy dear foul in hell must lie With Devils to eternity.

The conclusion.

Thus end the days of woful youth, Who won't obey nor mind the truth; Nor hearken to what preachers fay, But do their parents difobey. They in their youth go down to hell, Under eternal wrath to dwell. Many don't live out half their days, For cleaving unto finful ways.

The late Reverend and Venerable Mr. NA-THANIELCLAP, of Newport on Rhode Island; his Advice to children.

GOOD children should remember daily, God their Creator, Redeemer, and Sanctifier; to believe in, love and serve him; their parents to obey them in the Lord; their bible and catechism; their baptism; the Lord's day; the Lord's death and resurrection; their own death and resurrection; and the day of judgment, when all that are not fit for heaven must be sent to hell. And they should pray to God in the name of Christ, for saving grace
